President’s Welcome

Well it’s been a while coming, but A Grade are back on the winning list! Well done guys - it makes it all feel that much better when we have a win and I bet a few smiles were being worn on Saturday night.

Talking about smiling, this week I have been in Brisbane where on Saturday we went to watch the Reds v Waratahs game. Before the game we had the usual pre-game get together at the Normandy Hotel. The Normandy is almost like our second club house and I caught up, albeit briefly, with James (Chook) and Jackie White and family, Jeremy Bright and son Finn, Colin and Ali Snowden and family, Mick and Anita Farr and family, Al and Julie Watson, Dave Johnson, Duck and family, Pat Bree and John Sullivan and son Jack. After a few lemonades we were all ready to watch the game and it was pleasing to see Queensland make the finals.

I feel our A Grade can take some inspiration from Queensland’s run into the finals, where they have had to win 6 in a row to get there. Our requirement may be just 2 wins out of our last 4 games and we may sneak into the finals ourselves. So in closing and borrowing from the Reds – “We are Crocs. We are Crocs. We are Crocs”.

THE SENIORS

A Grade – Palmerston 19 University 12

Update from coach Greg Hill

It was wonderful to go back to University on Saturday as teachers, not students, to be with friends who wanted to do well and who then did well! It goes to demonstrate that with enough people at training to allow us to practice rugby, we can play rugby!

The game started with the opposition coming out with all guns blazing, but being denied with a very stout close in (pillar post key) defence and with a structured backline denying them any chance with good first-up tackles. This 10 minutes of defensive pressure set the tone for the rest of the first half and we converted our defensive pressure into attacking pressure which they couldn’t withstand without giving away penalties. Brad Hogan, who was really working hard, was the recipient of a well-earned try, along with one from Anthony Smith, for us to lead 10 to zip at oranges. Ian Verrall popped a few penalties over.

Although the great attitude stayed with us in the second half, some of our structures and decision making fell away. This was probably due to a lack of fitness and certainly from a reluctance to play field position and to kick out of defence.

We had no passengers at all in this game, and every player can be proud of their individual contribution to what was a structured and impressive team effort. This game is very much something we can build on!

Tries - Brad Hogan (1), Anthony Smith (1); Penalties - Ian Verrall (3)

What a sight to see three Cottons out there together, weaving their magic and sewing up the game for us.
THE SENIORS

B Grade – University 36 Palmerston 10

Update from coach Craig Leach

Saturday’s match was against University Pirates at their home ground, located right next to the flashiest set of changing rooms in the southern hemisphere.

Starting the game again with 13 forwards, it seemed a good idea to keep it tight! Uni put in 3 unanswered tries on us in the first half before we started to get things together. Great commitment from Katherine men, Mal Rooney, Braedon Stubbs and Ryan Keel, all driving 650kms return for a trot with the good guys.

Scrum became a potent weapon for us and we marched their pack around like a pair of wrestling mud crabs. On the back of some great attack, Mal Rooney barged over for a great try. The students threw caution to the wind and attacked us out wide to score a couple of lucky tries on the bell.

Final score was 36-10 to University.

Thanks to departing Crocs, Jayden Day and Dominic Mead, who are heading away on work duties. See you next season.

Pressure is starting to mount on positions, so get down to training if you like your spot, otherwise – wing it is!!!

Under 18’s – Casuarina 48 Palmerston 24

Tries – D Thompson (2), P Tamoto (1), J Jack (1); Conversions - M Kimura-Mapiva (1), B Herbert (1)

TEAM PHOTOS

We’ve recently collated many team photos from over the past 35 years (they can now be seen on our facebook page). However, we have a lot of gaps! If you have a team photo that we don’t have, we would love to hear from you.
Tony Burns

A Grade Player 1977-1986
Northern Territory Representative 1980-1985
Palmerston Best and Fairest 1979/80; 1980/81; 1981/82

Tony joined Palmerston Rugby Union Club after being persuaded to accompany the club on a weekend rugby trip to Nhulunbuy. He claims he didn’t really intend to take up playing rugby union but a weekend trip of rugby and beer sounded too good to pass up so along he went. That weekend led to a celebrated career with the club and the NT Rugby Union. Tony was a lion hearted performer and could always be counted upon to give his best and match it with the best the opposition had to offer. He wasn’t a big lock but he was very mobile and always in the thick of the action.

Tony played the game in the era when rucking of the player was allowed and when Casuarina Rugby Union Club dominated the competition with their southern imports. As a lock Tony spent a lot of time on the bottom of rucks and was renowned for his fearless attitude. Consequently his back almost always bore the reminders of his endeavours.

Over the last decade or so Tony has also become the key organiser of the annual (or regular) PRUC Test Match reunions in Brisbane doing an outstanding job of keeping the Palmerston Rugby family together.

STORIES FROM THE ARCHIVES...

An old article from 1982 – 30 plus years and “there can only be one”

There aren’t too many of them left but what they lack in quantity they make up in quality.

Of course I’m referring to the golden oldies who have been around since the first season out on the old Alawa Oval back in 1976.

But before you read on, bear in mind few records were kept of players in those days and this writer is relying on memory to recall the stars of yesteryear still running the paddock.

It would be hard to forget the deeds of Caramia’s popular prop Wally White.

He is indeed an original and probably the player with most first grade games to his credit. He played in six seasons, a player with most representative games up.

In those days and times the Caramia, Wally was assisted on the wing by Graham Ladig and Mike Smith, both now regulars in B grade.

If not Mick reached the Palmerston B grade this season to a berth in the preliminary final and was called on to play a variety of positions throughout the season.

Graham is still required out of the copybook wingers in either grade and is one ace up Caramia B grade-coach Turk Morton’s sleeve for ledger grand final.

The man who virtually started the column was Burke (Burke) Cooper and Bernie Bros are running the paddock and Caramia’s still coaching.

Both in Palmerston through and through although Cooper did have a stint with Larapinta last season.

Bernie brother Dennis would have to get an award as the most durable fcshailer for the past six seasons.

The loyalhearted Dennis is called to play two games each week with monotonous regularity, typifying the spirit contained among the Caramia mould.

In the first game in 1976 at Stuart Oval the Dempster’s forward Dennis was around in the first season and the Dennis Bree is frequently asked to play in any number of positions.

Brenton, whom was a member of the first touring side to leave Darwin and is still regarded as one of the most experienced players, especially in backline play.

Ladig’s loyal winger Graham Oates still possesses remarkable speed and few would deny his value to the club over the years on and off the paddock.

Versatile Illi-Dragon forward Gerry Elphick, now a Dragons B grader would remember the first season at Alawa from the inside of a screen or mud and no doubt could mention the names of others.

Burke is one of those old men, in the old school mould who refuses to take a backwater role charging into the action like a fireman’s bell.

A number of players have disqualified themselves from this list by taking a season or two off but remarkably some have returned this season and in fact most are playing better rugby.

Brenton’s Bob Howie and Bruce Spencer, then with a goalline, Peter Stewart and the present Caramia coach are a fine quickly to slip down the ladder.

From out of town John Cooper and Brian Breddle still make occasional appearances from their new base at Jabiru and one of the original Dragons Ian Duggan played for Gore earlier this year in Darwin.

Had this list still been there it would be little doubt they would still be running on each week for their original clubs.
